"wAsian-tonians" makes debut on T V

Community members came to take part of the studio audience for the taping of "wAsian-tonians: Celebration of Asian and Pacific American Heritage," a television program produced by OAPIA.

The show was designed to showcase the innovative ways that the District government has responded to the needs of Asian Pacific Americans (APAs) for improved access to government services, and to highlight the contributions of APAs who live and work in the District. The one-hour show consisted of two discussion panels, two cultural performances and candid interviews with "citizens on the street."

City Administrator Robert Bobb and Dr. Natwar Gandhi, Chief Financial Officer of the District of Columbia, were among the first panel focusing on District agencies, while the other panel included APA community contributors, including John Tinpe, chair of the D.C. Commission on Asian and Pacific Islander Affairs, and Hien Vu, director of the Vietnamese American Community Service Center.

The studio audience had a chance to comment, share their own experiences and ask questions to the panelists.

The show will be aired on Channel 16 throughout the month of June.
